Overview of a successful tribal community campaign for HPV immunization

Learning Objectives

By the end of this presentation, participants will have a better understanding of:

- Creating community specific messaging
- Promoting within a tribal community and identifying local champions
- Brief history of tribes in the Northwest
- The complex history of relations between health systems and Native communities

Summary

The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs currently has one of the highest HPV vaccination rates in the state of Oregon. The Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board (NPAIHB) is a non-profit public health agency created by and for the 43 tribes of the Northwest. NPAIHB has a long history of presenting and promoting HPV immunizations in the tribal cancer coalition and clinical updates. Come learn more about tribal communities in the Northwest and how one small community is breaking barriers.
